

Membership scheme for the Oxford Fintech and Legaltech Society

Trinity Term 2019

Monday, 25th March 2019

Unless otherwise stated, all capitalized terms refer to terms used and defined in the Oxford Fintech & Legaltech Society Constitution, in force since Hillary Term 2019 and available on the Oxford Fintech & Legaltech Society website.

In accordance with paragraphs 3 et seq. of the Constitution, the Oxford Fintech & Legaltech Society (hereinafter “OFLS”) Committee for Trinity Term has decided to set the OFLS associate membership policy according to the following:

1. Eligibility

Membership to the OFLS (previously “Fintech & SmartLaw Society”, or “FSS”) is available to any person, company or institution interested in financial and legal technology.

2. Membership Fee

- 2.1. The standard fee for membership registration is twenty pounds (£20).
- 2.2. The fee is discounted to ten pounds (£10) for University of Oxford alumni.
- 2.3. The fee is waived for current University of Oxford students.
- 2.4. The fee is waived for previous or current OFLS Committee Members and Senior Members.

3. Benefits

- 3.1. Membership to the OFLS may grant members certain additional benefits to those granted by the Constitution (hereinafter “Benefits”). Such Benefits are advertised primarily on the OFLS website.
- 3.2. Any Benefits granted by the OFLS are understood to be granted on a discretionary basis. They may be changed or modified at any time. The OFLS Committee will update the OFLS website to reflect current Benefits granted to members, within reasonable notice.
